TESTING TORPEDOES.

A Sham Battle in the Night.

A night torpedo fight at Portsmouth is the latest experiment in English naval warfare. Within view of thousands of people who lined the shores of the Solent, a programme of mimic warfare was gone through for the purpose of ascertaining the possibility of attacking under cover of darkness, a fort which, in addition to being heavily armed, had a field of torpedo mines immediately in its front, for its defence. Fort Monckton, was occupied by three mounted field pieces, and companies of infantry armed with Martini-Henry rifles. The torpedo mine field extended over a surface of 800 square yards, with a boom running due north and south, protected with net work and divers impediments, which would be likely to catch the screws of the enemy's launches. This dangerous field comprised thirty-two electric contact mines, and forty-nine others to be fired from Fort Monckton. The fort had two electric lights. The operations of the attack were limited to destroying the electric cables, breaking booms and obstructions, and running lines of counter mines; the operations of the defence being limited to capturing or putting out of action the attacking vessels. At 9 o'clock the experiments began. The boom was soon forced, after a boat or two were placed out of action, but the navy held its own. It had several reverses, for boat after boat was declared beaten; but the boom having been forced was as great an encouragement as could have been desired. A few of the rockets had certainly gone off, showing that the army were winning; but No. 20 boat of the Vernon began to steal up and out mine after mine, and the others followed suit. A tremendous shock was felt as the boom was forced. A movement which was cleverly executed resulted in a great victory for the navy.

The First Lady School Teacher in California.

Ventura Free Press.
The first lady school teacher in California is said to have been Mrs. Olive M. Isbell, who in the months of February and March, 1847, at Santa Clara Mission, in Santa Clara county, taught the families that were stationed there, while Col. John C. Fremont, with a company of 400 men, went to take possession of southern California. She taught in an adobe stable for a school house, with a hole in the roof for a window, getting two dollars a month per scholar. There are several persons living in southern California who were her pupils; for instance, the wives of Dr. Ord and P. Y. Cool. This lady is 86 years of age. Her husband, from injuries received years ago, is disabled from doing any business whatever. However, this pioneer teacher, whose hair have grown white, at 86 is as hale and cheerful as though she was yet in her teens.

Tennyson.

A gentleman, who during the first week of the present month paid a visit to the poet Tennyson—writes concerning him to Gen. Wilson, of this city: "His hair is still black, and he looks strong and healthy, only is a little slower in his motions than formerly. The drive up of three miles from Helmsmere Station is through a beautiful country of corn and heather and hawberry lanes. The house is 800 feet above the sea—the highest inhabited house in the South of England—with a magnificent view from his study window. He has just written a poem of five stanzas, as an introduction to the new edition of his late brother Charles's sonnets, which will contain sixty new sonnets. Tennyson himself prefers the irregular sonnet to the strict Italian. Mary Howitt, instead of wintering at Rome this year has gone from her usual Tyrolean Summer quarters, to Meran, where her friend Miss Foley, the American authoress, who lived with them and was her daughter's other self—the sister of her soul—died and lies buried.

The Era of Good Will.

Burlington Hawkeye.

The other morning a man from the War Department met a man from the Interior Department, and immediately knocked him down and stepped on him. "This appears to be genuine," remarked the man from the Interior Department, as the other man kicked his eye out. "It does, indeed," assented the man from the War Department. "Still," returned the man from the Interior, "I do not see that it in any way changes the harmonious relations between the two departments." And as soon as the man on top took away his foot, he spat out several of his teeth. "No," said the man from the War Department, stooping down to pull his friend's ear out by the roots; "no, it does not. This looks as though we were not in perfect accord. I admit; but we are. We are in perfect accord, and I insist upon it."

Spelling Reform.

American Journal of Education.

Jo Medil (with one l—why two l's) has issued order No. 1 to the compositors in the Tribune office as follows: Omit the in demagog, pedagog, synagog, dialog, decalog, and other words ending in logue and gouge. Omit the superfluous e in program, gram. Omit the second m in dilemma (dilema). Omit the superfluous e in cigaret, etiquette, parquet, croquet, and all similar words, except GAZETTE when it is used as the name of a newspaper. Spell deft in all its forms without the final e; thus: deft—ly—less, indefinit—ly—ness. Spell infinit without the final e; also infinit—ly—ness. Omit final e in hypocrit, favorit; also, opposit—ly—ness and apposit—ly—ness. In words ending in "lessness," drop one e from "less" viz: carelessness, thanklessness, etc. Omit the fourth s in assassin (assasin) and other forms of the word. Spell Somerset, not Somersault. Spell canon with a Spanish n, or spell it canyon. Change ph to f in phantom, fantasm, and all forms of the word; also, in fonetic—al, fonography, orthograft, alfabet, digraft, dithong.

Cinchona Rubra.

There are now two kinds of drunkenness, continuous and periodical. Either kind may be termed in all respects, a disease. That it is such is proved by the one fact—afflicted parties are frequently compelled to drink against their will or better judgment. Nothing will restrain them; neither the prayers of friends, the tearful entreaties of wives and children, nor the imminent ruin of their private affairs.

The CURE—CINCHONA RUBRA.

Cinchona bark was introduced into Europe about the year 1658, but it was not until about 1777 that the plant producing it was known to naturalists. In that year, a Frenchman, on a journey to Lima, Peru, had the opportunity of examining the tree, a description of which (upon his return to Paris) he published in the Memoirs of the French Academy. Soon thereafter, Linnaeus, the botanist, gave it the name of "Cinchona Officinalis," in honor of the Countess of Cinchon, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, who had been healed miraculously (as the Jesuits of the day believed) by drinking from a pool of water into which the top of one of these trees, blown down by the wind, had fallen. The Cinchona stands at the head of all fevers. When taken into the stomach a pure, tincture of it usually excites in short time a warmth which diffuses itself over the whole body. After some moments have elapsed the circulation experiences its influence, as exhibited in the somewhat increased frequency of the pulse, and after a few doses are given at regular intervals, the whole system becomes more or less beneficially affected, and all the functions undergo a moderate degree of excitement. Reaction upon the nervous system is often induced by a sense of tension, or fullness or slight pain in the head, singling in the ears, etc.; overlooking brings partial temporary deafness. But, besides the mere excitation of the ordinary functions of health it produces other effects upon the system which must be considered peculiar and independent of its mere tonic operation. [That power by which, when administered in the intervals between the paroxysms of disease it interrupts the progress of the malady, is something more than what is understood by the tonic property; for no other substance, however powerful or permanent may be the excitement which it produces, exercises a control over periodical affections at all comparable to Cinchona.]

In all periodical diseases, such as occasion fever, "intermittent" as they are termed, the rest or freedom from the effects of the train of morbid actions, going on in the recesses of the nervous system, and but one remedy is known which has the power during this intermission of preventing a return of the condition experienced prior to its administration. That remedy is Cinchona Rubra. As actually how it does this has not yet been satisfactorily explained; but that it does it has been acknowledged for over a hundred years. Indeed, we would not be surprised to find the calmest admit that Cinchona has this wonderful anti-periodic property. Pyrethrum, and sold by Dr. R. D'Unger, Palmer House, Chicago, Illinois.

Gullies as Chagrined.

That bright, anxious, Diablot, Pate in the back and loins, Smarting, Indian nation, Calcutti, Brickbat deposit, or any trouble of the Kidneys or Bladder, is cured by the use of Dr. Mirtle's Nephrotonic, the great Buchu Compound. It is the most wonderful prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, say: "We regard Nephrotonic as the best Kidney and Bladder remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors have given them up. INTO THE SHEAVE.

A Startling Accident at the Union Shaft—One Man Killed and Fourteen More or Less Injured—The Engineer to Blame—Great Excitement. Aided the Mine for the Week.

From the Enterprise.
Yesterday morning, at the change of shifts at 7 o'clock at the Union shaft, a frightful accident occurred, which resulted in the death of one man—T. C. McCarty—and the injuring, to a greater or less extent, of fourteen others. The accident was caused by the running of a cage and skip up into the sheave at the top of the gallow's frame, some forty feet above the upper floor of the hoisting works. There were eight men on the cage and nine on the skip.

THE USUAL SIGNAL
of three bells was struck, which means: "Hoist slow with men," when the men started from the bottom of the shaft. The signal seems to have been perfectly understood by the engineer on duty, B. F. Corlies, and the cage started up at the proper and usual rate of speed. Mr. Corlies could not have been mistaken in regard to the kind of freight he was hoisting, as he knew the business in hand at the time was raising and lowering men, at the change of shifts.

All went well until the cage and skip passed the 600 station. Here the cage appeared to make a sudden bound upward, as is stated by a man who was aboard it, and continued to dart up at great speed, till about the 300 level, when there was another sudden accession of motion, and the cage flew up the shaft with lightning speed. John Mabel, who was on the cage, observed that it was going at such a rate of speed that it could not be stopped before it would reach the sheave, and said: "Boys, we are gone!"

came almost instantly after this was said, as it appeared to those on the cage. The shock was terrific. The steel wire cable, seven inches in width and three-quarters of an inch in thickness, was snapped as though it was nothing more than a piece of twine. This cable is capable of sustaining a weight of 100 tons. It parted with a report like that of a cannon. The whole building was shaken to its foundations and not a few of those within it started to run out, being under the impression that one of the boilers had exploded.

The cage, with its living freight flew out at the mouth of the shaft and up against the timbers supporting the sheave at the top of the gallow's frame as though it had been shot out of a cannon. The shock of the collision was so great that all the men but two were thrown off, though it is probable that some of them may have jumped off.

A Case of Infatuation.

From the Truckee Republican.

A case that is daily strange, and strangely sad, agitated Truckee to some extent. One of our most promising young men is involved, and with a woman of the town. The young man was honored, respected, fortunate in business, and only recently was promoted by his employers. His strange affection for the Cypryan was so strong that one night last week the two left Truckee together with the intention of going to Oregon to reside. A warrant was sworn out by parties in Truckee, and the two were brought back on a charge of larceny. There was no evidence against the young man, but the woman was convicted of the crime and sentenced to a fine of $100. Firm in his belief of her innocence, the lover remained faithful, raised the money here and there among his friends, paid her fine and procured her release. The two left town again Monday night. They propose going to Oregon, where they will settle down and pass the remainder of their days as man and wife. When importuned by his friends to leave the woman to her fate; when urged to allow her to go to jail and serve out her sentence, when promised his position and all needful assistance if he would forsake his companion, he replied, with tears in his eyes: "No, I love her, and if my poor old mother were here and asked me to leave her, I could not comply." Such devotion is rare, and in view of all the circumstances, there is a touch of the heroic. What the sequel of this romance may be is something we shall be anxious to learn.

The remains of Pinte Charley, recently killed by a Washoe Indian near Treadway's ranch, Carson City, were duly cremated last Monday night, near the spot where he was killed. The body was placed on top of a pile of cord-wood and brush by his fellow Indians, and by morning was reduced to ashes. The Carson Appeal says that De la Morgue, with his $500,000 fortune, could not have done it better. Many whites as well as Indians witnessed the cremation.

The latest developed mushroom mining town is Eureka, Ark. On July 4th there were but six persons there, and not a house. On the 15th of November it had 300 houses and a population of 2000, and the only attractions are lead mines.

Shortly after the war the legislature of Georgia made a law exempting all new factories that might be established from taxation for ten years. Under this encouragement the state has prospered wonderfully. It will appear strange that a number of the old factory proprietors have just combined to test in the courts the validity of the exemption.

By the laws of Iowa, aliens, whether they reside in the United States or not, may acquire, hold, or transmit property. In New York they must obtain a special act of Legislature to enable them to do this. Query: does not New York drive away many moneyed Scotch and English by this enactment? In England any man can hold any land he likes and buys.

A romantic young couple living in Lisbon, N. H., went out for a drive, and in returning were carried by their runaway horse into the Ammonoosuc river. It was so dark that they dared not turn around. The horse swam across with them, but the water in the deepest part encircled their necks, though they stood upon the buggy seat. The opposite bank was too steep for the horse to climb, and the couple got ashore over the shafts and rescued the horse by cutting him loose.

Economical Illuminating Gas.

According to the Journal of the Franklin Institute, E. Combellin has discovered a new industrial application of hydrogen. He places retorts of metal or refractory earthenware in the arch of furnaces or generators, in hot air apparatus or elsewhere, where they are exposed to a red heat. They are filled with charcoal, coke, or cinders, and a small jet of vapor is introduced, which produces, by decomposition and recombination, hydrogen, carbonic oxide and carbonic acid gas. The apparatus is thus raised to a red heat, and steam is raised without expense. Each tube, which contains 24 kilos. (55 pounds) of coke, yields in ten hours 100 cubic metres (3,531.638 cubic feet) of gas, which is passed to a purifier and thence to a gasometer. Its illuminating power is increased by mixture with the vapor of gas of volatile or solid hydrocarbons, so as to yield, at about one-sixteenth of the cost, a whiter and more brilliant flame than that of coal gas.

JOTTINGS.

Truckee will have a masquerade ball on Christmas.
At last accounts the McGinley troupe was in Paradise.
The funeral of George F. Vonburg took place this afternoon. He was buried with Odd Fellows' honors.
There were three feet of snow at the Summit yesterday, and the fall of last night must have materially added to its depth.
The "48" hose company are making arrangements for a grand ball on New Year's Eve. The particulars will shortly be announced.
Would you rather suffer the pain of having a tooth pulled, or get a bottle of Mrs. Dr. Howe's toothache cure? Which will stop the ache and save the tooth.
A heavy storm on the mountains last night played the mischief with the telegraph wires. It snowed continuously from 8 o'clock last night until two this morning. It rained here more or less through the night.
The Slinger State Minstrels give their first performance to-night. They have been rehearsing for sometime past, and those who have been present at their rehearsals, speak very highly of their performance. They are all Reno boys and deserve a good house.
Was it Red Mike?
On the milk ranch of A. T. Rice near town, last Tuesday morning, the men employed about the place saw a man come down from the haystack. He walked up to them and asked for something to eat, when they directed him to the house. He said he came from Chico. Shortly afterwards he started to walk to town. A few minutes after he left, one of the men also set out to walk to Reno. The stranger, seeing someone following him, appeared to think himself pursued, and ran. Soon he left the road and hid from view. In appearance he answered to the description of Red Mike, who lately escaped from the Virginia jail. It is very likely that the jail-breakers are in this vicinity.
Personals.
Bishop Whitaker is in town.
Mrs. Hammond was reported much better at noon to-day. The doctors say she will recover.
Charles Loomis and bride got home this morning. They will shortly go to housekeeping.
C. H. Stoddard, Sergeant-at-arms of the late Assembly, and well-known in Reno, is now mining at Esmeralda.
A Sober Saturday Night.
The Reform Club and the Ladies' Temperance Union, will give a social dance in Winchel & Cunningham's hall next Saturday evening. Tickets $1.

FROM RENO TO ALTURAS.

A Long Journey by Stage-Stopping Places-Scenery on the Route, Etc.

The last number of the Modoc Independent contains the following interesting letter from the pen of Harry Bowmer, late of this office:
Wrapping ourselves up in three large buffalo robes, a wagon sheet and numerous blankets, we bid farewell to Reno at 3 A. M., and were off by stage for the "northern country." Deep Wells is our first stopping place, where breakfast is taken and a change of horses made. This station is sixteen miles from Reno and acquires its name from the deepness of the well dug here some years ago, and which, if I mistake not, is in the neighborhood of 150 feet in depth. Water is charged for here at the rate of five cents per head for stock. After traveling over a series of low hills we arrived at Tule Frank's place in Winnemucca valley, where the

are raised. Frank says he can raise "the best potatoes this side of H-I," and stated as an actual fact that his ground produced one potato this season that would not go into a common wash tub. As we did not see the potato we cannot vouch as to the truth of the story, but the driver confidentially remarked that Tule Frank was considered a truthful man. After another change of horses we are off for Fish Springs where we arrive at 12 o'clock—50 miles from Reno. Time, nine hours, with three changes of animals. But just before reaching here, on what is termed Fish Spring hill, a splendid view is obtained of the surrounding country. Straight ahead on our route of travel a level plain stretches out for miles, looking like a huge kitchen floor. Far to the north-east, dim and indistinct, are the snow-covered tops of the Queen's river mountains, seemingly a mass of fleecy white clouds, emerging from behind the intervening hills. On our left Honey Lake valley and the Sierra Nevada range are in plain view. A prettier sight than this is seldom seen throughout our western country.

AT FISH SPRINGS

Mr. Anderson has made several improvements during the past year. An immense barn has been constructed, with a capacity for holding most all of the hay raised on the place, and has an improvement in the way of unloading hay into its interior. The spring itself has been nicely walled up, and sometime during the year Mr. Anderson proposes building a substantial dwelling house. Dinner is had and a change of horses and drivers made, and we are rolling along over a smooth level road, the soil being of a hard alkaline character, which continues the same, with the exception of a short sand hill, until we reach Sheep Head. Before reaching the latter place one change of horses is made. At Sheep Head a splendid supper awaited our arrival, and ample provisions were made for a long night drive. A new change of horses and drivers is made, the side lamps of the coach are lighted and we start out into the darkness and cold. Frank Murphy's salt works are passed on our way to Buffalo Station, and at some future time I will endeavor to describe the means by which salt is obtained on the desert. Buffalo Meadows is reached at 11 o'clock—100 miles from Reno; time, 20 hours, with five changes of horses. The mail and passengers are here transferred to another vehicle, and a change of driver and horses made, and we are bounding over the roughest portion of the route; viz. Buffalo Canyon. The canyon is ten miles in length and forms one of the most romantic views on the route of travel. Winnemucca, the

was born in the southern extremity of this canyon. A change of horses is made at Chalk Hill just at the terminus of the canyon, and our route of travel now trends more to the northwest, over a level sagebrush flat. Surprise Valley at length stretches out before us, and after crossing the State line from Nevada into California, we arrive at Mr. Coppensmith's for breakfast and a fresh team and Jehu. Eagleville, though sustaining the misnomer of a town, can scarcely be considered as such; but for fear of incurring the reproaches of its two or three inhabitants I will not enter into details. Another change of horses and we are off for Cedarville over a splendid road and through an agricultural country that would make a granger shout with delight. The many farms with their pretty houses and surroundings present a beautiful sight indeed, notwithstanding the fact that snow lay in patches all around and nothing green remains. Arriving at Cedarville, we bid adieu to our regular route of travel, and await the departure of the stage for Alturas. At Cedarville, we take dinner, just 35 hours after eating an early breakfast in the latter place. The number of changes of horses on the route during this time were ten, and drivers five. Early on Thursday morning we climbed over the mountains en route for Alturas, the place of our destination. On reaching the summit we witnessed one of those grand sights which Joaquin Miller so graphically portrays in one of his tales descriptive of life among the Modocs. Miles in advance of us Mount Shasta loomed up, grand and majestic, standing alone, with seemingly no intervening mountains to obstruct the magnificent view, and by which a comparison might be made to "detract something of its grandeur. Its loneliness and isolation render it far more attractive, and even a lengthy eulogy would be insufficient to convey an idea of the grandeur of the scene. After gazing around at the valley of the Pitt river, Great Lake valley, etc., we drive to the base of the mountains and soon arrive in Alturas, a comparative stranger in a strange place, but our mind set at ease with regard to its former misgivings, acquired through the information of certain jealous competitors for the prosperity which your town possesses. Alturas is undoubtedly the future metropolis of this northern country, and a more convenient spot for a town site could not be selected than the one on which it now stands.

180 MILES FROM RENO,

Improvements at Boco.

An addition to the Boco brewery of 53 x 54 feet has just been completed, adding to the storing capacity by 2,000 barrels. There is now room in the cellars for 6,000 barrels, averaging thirty gallons to the barrel. An ice pond has been created this fall which covers nearly two acres and is expected to produce 2,000 tons of ice. It is raised by means of an elevator and belt to the level of the storing rooms. The pond lies under the bluff on which the brewery stands and close to the river. It is wholly artificial, embankment eight feet high, built of crib work and faced with plank from the lower side. It is fed by a ditch half a mile long, from a dam which crosses the river at a narrow place above. The dam is anchored by an immense rock which lies in the middle of the stream. The brewery is running on full time, or about three times as much as during the summer months. A surplus of 8,000 barrels is accumulated every winter, upon which to draw during the hot weather, when the consumption of beer doubles.

Bursting of a Circular Saw.

On Monday morning between 7 and 8 o'clock, while the machinery was running at full speed, the main saw of the Pacific Lumber and Wood Co.'s mill at Clinton burst and a dozen fragments went flying around the room. Fortunately no one was injured, which is almost a miracle, as there were seven or eight men near it. It was a large saw, 58 inches in diameter. A strip about five inches wide was all that remained on the shaft.

A New Trial for Parkinson.

A new word has been filed by R. R. Parkinson, convicted of illegal voting and false registration at Carson, in the U. S. circuit court, and the case is now taken up to Sawyer's court, in San Francisco, for a new trial. The bond was $24,000, and H. M. Yerington, D. L. Bliss and Lloyd Hill appeared as sureties. The trial will come off in March. So says the Carson Appeal.

Roll of Honor.

Following is the roll of honor for those who have reached the standard of 90 per cent. in scholarship and deportment, for the month of November for the north Truckee district school: Nellie Gault, 90%; Charles Bryant, 90%; Sarah Johnson, 90%; Fannie Johnson, 94%; Charles Pollard, 93%; Bessie Gault, 93%; Josie Gulling, 92%; Frank Vance, 90%; Emma Ross, 90.

MAGUIR VANCE, Teacher.

Transfer of Authority.

The track department of the Central Pacific Railroad has been transferred from the Engineering to the Operating department, so that repair men are now under the orders of A. N. Towne instead of S. S. Montague. S. M. Clement continues to be superintendent of repairs, and J. M. Graham is supervising road master from Reno to Vallejo and to Redding.

A Heavy Suit.

The case of Lonkey & Smith vs. the Banner Mill Co. comes up to-day (Wednesday) in the U. S. Courts in San Francisco. It takes several Reno and Truckee men down as witnesses. B. F. Bacon, F. Burkhalter, J. L. Peck, and others went down on No. 4, on Monday night. The suit is for the sum of $70,000 and grows out of milling operations on Alder Creek.

An Ear Bitten Off in a Quarrel.

J. D. Brown, the cook, and Finn Ferguson, the dish washer at the Costa House, had a difficulty last evening. In the course of the quarrel Ferguson bit off the lobe of Brown's left ear. Brown had Ferguson arrested on a charge of mayhem and the case was set for trial to-day, but has been postponed until next Saturday.

Stopping the Lightning.

Officers Avery and Jones last evening got a telegram from Virginia, instructing them to stop the lightning train before it arrived at the station here and arrest two passengers who were wanted by the Virginia authorities. They accordingly flagged the train near the bridge and arrested the two, but upon investigation they proved to be the wrong men.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Nevada State Agricultural, Mining and Mechanical Society, will be held at the court house, Reno, Nevada, at 1 P. M. Monday, December 22, 1914, for the election of trustees for the ensuing year, and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

In Memoriam.

At the last regular communication of Washoe Lodge No. 2, F. & A. M., the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.
WHEREAS:—It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove from our midst our late brother John Twaddle; and

WHEREAS:—It is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had; therefore be it Resolved:—By Washoe Lodge No. 2, F. & A. M., that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

Resolved:—That, in the death of John Twaddle, this Lodge laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to proffer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity; an active member of this society, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its well-being and prosperity; a friend and companion who was dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

Resolved:—That the heartfelt sympathy of this Lodge be extended to his family in their affliction.

Resolved:—That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, and published in the Reno Evening Gazette.

Truckee Items.

From to-day's Republican.
The store of P. Sheridan was burglarized last Friday night. The burglars entered at the rear door. About two hundred dollars worth of goods were carried away. Tramps are suspected of having done the work.
Almost 30,000,000 of ties, lumber, and wood were shipped from the Truckee depot during the month of November.
Jas. Vaughn has shut down his shingle mill for the winter, after cutting nearly three million of first-class shingles.
The holidays will be celebrated in grand style in Truckee this year. Money is plenty and times are flush.

Suicide.

A distinguished scientist once said: "No man with a strong and healthy stomach ever committed suicide;" and yet many are suffering the tortures of the damned with dyspepsia, when a single bottle of Dr. Merz's English Dandelion, Liver and Dyspepsia Pills will give relief, and if persisted in, will cure the worst cases of this distressing trouble. This pill cures Torpid Liver and Biliousness, regulates the bowels, removes pimples from the face, cures shallow complexion, flatulency, sick headache, heartburn, pain in the sides and back; is sugar-coated, and GUARANTEED TO BE PURELY VEGETABLE. It acts directly upon the coating of the stomach and on the liver; can be taken in any climate—wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations. The genuine has an engraving of a lion on the outside wrapper. Price 50 cents. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker, druggists.

New Barber Shop.

John Bels has opened the Wine House Barber Shop in first class style, and will accommodate all who call with the most approved haircut or shave. His outfit is new, and he has the neatest and tasteful shop in Nevada. Hot and Cold Baths 25 cents. Bootblack stand, and all the accessories usually found in Barber shops, connected with the establishment.
JOHN BELS.

The "Bulletin" Free Seed Distribution for 1915.

Arrangements have been perfected for a free seed distribution among the subscribers of the "Bulletin" of several kinds of rare and valuable trees, vegetables and flower seeds. Great care has been taken to choose varieties that have been tested sufficiently in this country or elsewhere, to prove their value for the Pacific Coast, and such as are not readily obtained through ordinary channels. The object has also been kept constantly in view of obtaining such varieties as would prove, not only of benefit to our subscribers, but an advantage to the whole coast. Some of the more valuable of the list have not yet found their way into the catalogues of American seedsmen, and are not obtainable in this country. Several varieties have been ordered from England, France and Japan at large expense, and the actual retail value of the seeds to be presented to each subscriber will about equal the subscription price of this paper.

The distribution will be made during the coming winter, and will commence as soon as the last shipment arrives from Europe. There will be delay in the arrival of some of these from France on account of the necessity, in order to obtain perfectly fresh seeds, of waiting for the ripening of the crop of the present season. As soon as possible the date for commencing the distribution will be announced with full particulars through these columns, and in the meantime a description of each variety accompanied most cases by an illustration, will be published, and each subscriber will be able to judge of the adaptability of the different kinds to his locality. In view of the seed distribution and the fact that the Reno Weekly Gazette, the Friday "Bulletin" and the Weekly "Bulletin," are all given for $3, this is the greatest inducement to subscribe ever offered on the Pacific Coast.

I Wish Everybody to Know.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen of this vicinity, known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian Minister of the M. E. Church, just this moment stopped in our store to say, "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." It is having a tremendous sale over our counters and is giving perfect satisfaction in all cases of Lung Diseases, such as nothing else has done. Bourbon, Ind., May 15, 1878. Dr. Matchett & France. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, Druggists, Reno, Nevada.

Fine Stock of Jewelry Just Received at I. Fredericks.

It will be profitable to the public to call at I. Fredericks, where they will find the best selection ever opened in Reno of gold watches ladies' and gents' chains, guard and opera chains, necklaces, lockets, and sets of all descriptions. All goods warranted as represented. No filled goods nine-tenths solder instead of gold. I have been here six years, and I defy any one to show that I have ever sold a filled article for solid gold. My stock is open for inspection. Call and examine my goods before you buy elsewhere. I am selling my goods cheaper than they were ever offered before.

The Leading Drug Goods House.

I have given unusual attention to the selection of my Fall and Winter stock; and offer to the trade a full and complete line of everything found in a first class Drug Goods store, at prices unusually low. On my counters can be seen the finest and most extensive stock of rich and elegant dress material ever seen in this city, and the public generally will consult their own interests by purchasing their goods of us. Samples are sent to any part of the country on application with their low prices attached.
